

Payday Borrowers Want Reform

Payday loans fail to work as advertised. Although the loans are sold as two-week products for emergency expenses, borrowers use them to cover regular expenses and end up indebted for 5 months of the year.

Borrowers Want Policymakers to Act

want more time to repay the loans

want more regulation of the loans

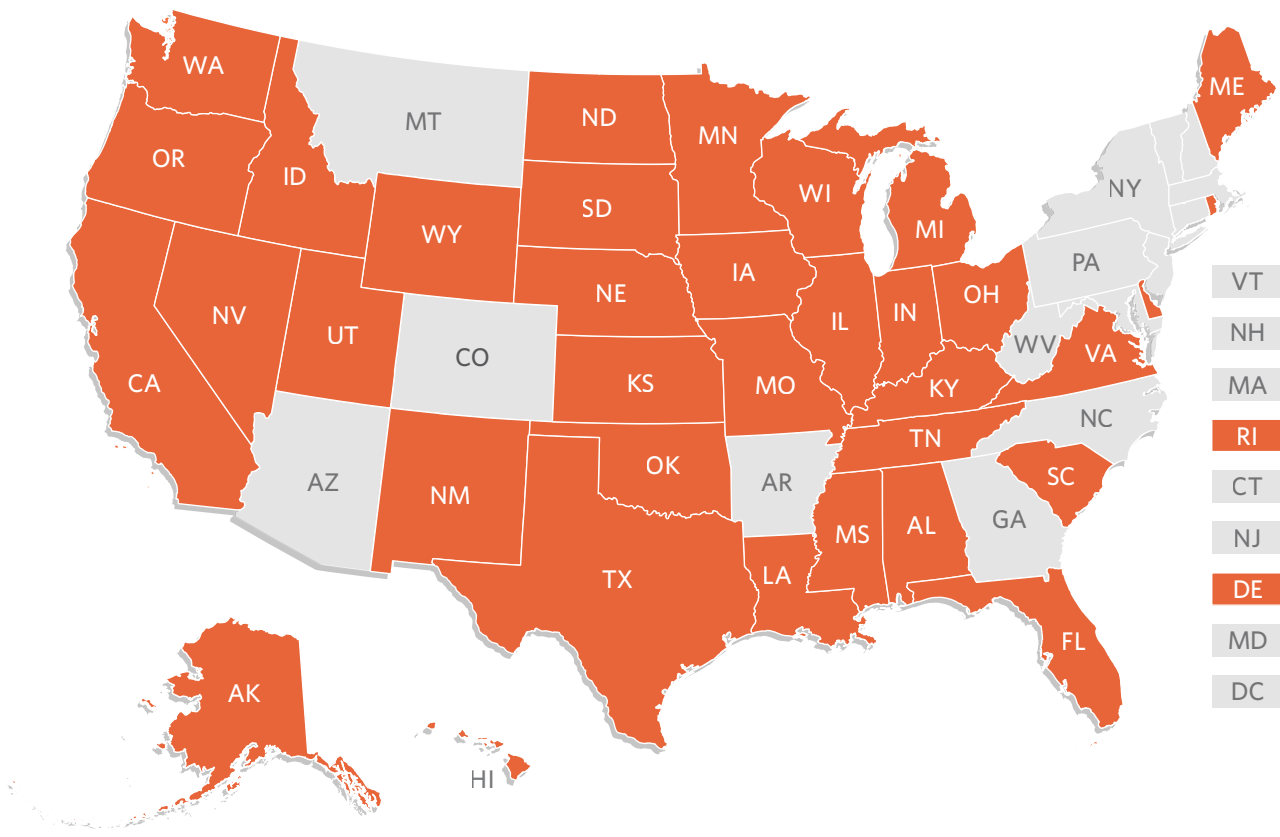

Payday Loans Are Unaffordable

A typical payday loan takes up one-third of a borrower's paycheck...

But most borrowers cannot afford more than 5% of their paycheck.

35 states have unaffordable lump-sum payday loans. The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau has the power to fix this problem.

■ States that have lump-sum payday loans
 ■ States that do not have lump-sum payday loans

The CFPB is a federal regulator with authority over all payday loans.
